

Clyde T. Leach

July 23, 1948 - April 17, 2021

Clyde T. Leach, 72, passed on April 17, 2021. He was born to Leon F. Leach and Doris (Martin) Leach on July 23, 1948 in Bangor, Maine. Clyde will forever be remembered for putting his family first and being a devoted friend. A jack-of-all-trades, Clyde specialized in carpentry and masonry work. He learned from a very young age, by working with his father, in building furniture and other projects in developing these skills. He had a very inquisitive mind. If something peaked his interest he would do what it took by researching it and learning what he could to create it. This also included his interest in new technology. He had to keep up with the new age items. His other interests were photography, ancestry research, 50's and 60's music, old western movies and tv shows, and talking about politics. He looked forward to and enjoyed his meetings with "the guys" on Wednesday mornings for coffee. Most of all he enjoyed his lunches out with his loving wife, Donna.

Clyde is preceded in death by his parents and his sister, Shirley Leach. He is survived by his wife, Donna Leach, son Troy DeRoche and his wife Stephanie, sister Doreen Leach, grandchildren Nichole Mullins and Jessica DeRoche, and great grandchildren Grayson Mullins and Sedona Otazo.

“ Donna, my thoughts and prayers are with you in the loss of your beloved husband Clyde, My heart is filled with fond memories of happy times when we all got together and talked and laughed for hours. Clyde had an inquisitive mind and a great sense of humor and will be missed by all who knew him. May God Bless.

*Love you always,
Eve*

“ Sincere condolences to Donna and family from the Kiley's in Maine. Clyde made a point of stopping to visit any time he was up here for a visit. Enjoyed hearing stories from him especially about my father. Donna told me that my father was the best man at their wedding 50 years ago. Know that you are in our thoughts and prayers. Blessings!
