“ I will miss you, Denise. It is still hard for me accept the reality that you have passed on from this world. It saddens me very much but on the other hand, I know how much you prayed and you always told me that you prayed for me, too.

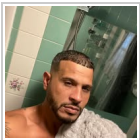

So, in knowing this, I think our Lord was waiting there for you when you crossed over in to the after life. A void of pain is left for us to bear with your absence, but remembering you and all the good times makes your loss easier to deal with. One of the last times we talked, you said you prayed for me to be happy. I told you that I was happy and was in a healthy relationship. You smiled and thanked God for it.

There was a reason God put the two of us misfits together. We learned a lot and we were all we had at one point. Especially when both of our former spouses passed away in 2008 within 2 months apart. Well, together, we were able to rise above those times.

Rest in peace my dear friend. Watch over your family and if you can, keep me on the right track to make it to Heaven whenever that day comes. God Bless you and rest your soul.

Sincerely,
David

I was so in love with her. We spent nearly 5 years together on and off. What a journey. We shared lots of love and laughs together through thick and thin. In 2008 we both lost former spouses within 2 months apart. those were the times we grew closer as we were there for each other. I was so surprised when she had my name tattooed on to the back of her neck. It was an amazing tribute and showed how she felt. God Bless you my dear. I was so proud of you the past year. You had it rough and learned to walk again after your stroke and you grew closer to God. I'm sure he was there to welcome you when you crossed over in to the after life. R.I.P. and if you can, keep a look over your family and keep me on the right path as well.
