“ My world, my “person”, my friend, my second mom, You were MY NAN and no one else's(at least in my eyes). No words can express how I feel right now. My heart is broken and my soul hurts. I will forever treasure our time talking on the front porch, watching soap operas, watching you bake, can, listening to you sing while you clean, & chapstick in my Christmas stocking. I'll miss our trips to the dollar tree, Saturday lunches with pop and my girls, Wendy's Frosty's with McDonalds fish sandwich, and most of all, Pinkies...you always had them for me. You took care of me when I was sick, made sure I got on the bus, let me play in The parlor and attic like they were mine. You never raised your voice, let me be me, you were my hero and always will be! The path I wore to get to your house is gone now, but I know the path I need to take to get back to you will be there, with you at the end waiting for me, because I'll need to know what's for dinner! Samantha carries your name proudly, because I thought you deserved to be honored. My life will never be the same with out you but will forever be blessed because of you. Angie
