“ Well Unc, you were the last of the "Three Musketeers". I have that photo of you, Dad, Uncle Don and Pop-Pop in your uniforms taken on Madison Street. Quite a handsome bunch. I remember when I was very young playing in that tiny compartment behind the back seat of your red VW Beetle... the times visiting on Sunday afternoons when Gram would make her tasty steak sandwiches ... summers at Stone Valley... all of the birthday get togethers and so much more. You were thoughtful and kind to everyone. Your quiet gentle manner belied the inner strength you had. You always were a wonderful uncle and will be greatly missed. Until we meet again, I'll say "Cheerio!"

“ Dick and I, along with two others, were army roommates in. He and I toured the Country as well as traveling to Switzerland, Austria, and the edge of France. We spent time with a family he knew in Scotland and witnessed the Changing of the Guard in London. He planned most of the trips. His friendship has been one of my most valuable memories.
