“ I've had the pleasure of working with Sean for almost 10 years. Sean was so talented & many of us learned a great deal working alongside him. He was truly an asset to our organization. He was definitely a stickler for details & I immediately bonded with him because of it. He had a sarcastic wit & a sharp tongue - the version of him you received was often cloaked in the latter - but those of us who really "saw" him, loved him all the more for it. I will forever remember how good he sounded when last I heard from him. He will truly be missed. My deepest sympathy goes out to his family & all those feeling his absence. He left way too soon...
